BELIEVE TWO MEN
PERISHED AT SEA

Thirty Hour Search for Aviator Kearny and Chester Lawrence, a Newspaper man, in Without Result.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 16.—Horace Kearny, the young Kansas City aviator who tried to master land and sea in a hydro-aeroplane flight from Los Angeles to San Francisco, lost his fight with the elements, and, with his passenger, Chester Lawrence, a Los Angeles newspaper man, almost certainly was drowned in the angry surges of the Pacific ocean. Lawrence was automobile editor of the Examiner and mapped the ocean to catch highway to New York recently.

A portion of the hydro-aeroplane "Shookums" was picked up by a motor boat off Redondo beach and towed into Santa Monica by a party of fishermen, and 20 hours' continuous search for Kearny and Lawrence was without result, except that Glenn H. Martin, a fellow aviator, only met Kearny's machine, went down to Santa Monica and looked at the pontoon. He identified it immediately as the one he put in the "Shookums" and gave an explanation of how the young Kearny fulfilled his self-imposed task.

The British sloop of war Shearwater left Santa Monica today to search for the missing aviators. The search was not without hope, as the missing aviators had been picked up but none could be verified.

ACCUSED TESTIFIES
IN HIS OWN DEFENCE

William C. Bernhardt, of Cincinnati, is 27th Defendant in the "Dynamite Conspiracy" Trial.
Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 15.—William C. Bernhardt, of Cincinnati, former official of a local ironworkers' union, took the witness stand at the "dynamite conspiracy" trial today as the 27th of the 41 defendants to testify in his own behalf.

Bernhardt is accused of complicity in the McNamara plots because of letters he wrote to John J. McNamara, secretary of the International union. In one of these letters Bernhardt said a reference to "dear old the city" meant inducing nonunion men to join the union. He said he met McNamara only a few times, when the latter visited Cincinnati on business.

Four explosions occurred in Cincinnati, the government charges, as a part of the "terrorism and dynamiting" employed by the ironworkers in their strike against "open shop" concerns. Bernhardt testified, in reference to labor disputes, that a police court judge said that "I interrupted federal judge Anderson."

Bernhardt said he merely wrote that to McNamara as a rumor. The government charges the union officials had members released from the charge. The witness denied knowledge of the use of any explosives.

SEVEN MENINGITIS CASES
IN ALBUQUERQUE THIS YEAR.

Austin, Texas, Dec. 15.—The report that there were 10 cases of meningitis in close proximity of the University of Texas has caused a great deal of worry among the parents of El Paso students at the university, according to the number of anxious inquiries already received. But the state board of health says that during the whole term there have been only seven cases reported in the city; out of the seven cases three deaths have resulted. From this same statement of the board of health it is shown that none of the cases have occurred within a good half mile of the school. Dr. Gilbert, the Texas university physician, also states that the school is entirely free from contamination and that all the students are safe.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 15.—The senate convened at 11 a. m. today and adopted a plan designating senators Gallinger and Bacon to act alternately fortnightly as presidents pro tempore.

Chairman Clapp, of the campaign contributions investigating committee, announced that W. H. Hearst probably would be the first witness when the committee resumed its hearings Tuesday.

The senate began the consideration of the Sheppard-Kenyon liquor traffic bill. The court of impeachment resumed the trial of Judge Archibald at 1:30 p. m. The house considered miscellaneous bills on the unanimous consent calendar.

Representative DeForest introduced a joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to make the terms of congressmen four years.

Representative Berger introduced a resolution providing that the government condemn and buy the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad property.

With But Seven More Shopping Days Remaining
The Store Service
Is Keyed to The Highest Pitch

—Now comes the vital test of the store's organization. Seven days of the most remarkable Christmas shopping as evidenced by the brisk business thus far this month.

—For these 7 days we shall strengthen every branch of the store's service, so that we may be able to care for the thousands of our patrons who have yet their gifts to buy.

—Great as has been the trading so far, but slight inroads have been made upon the stocks.

—Christmas gift selection is at the very flood-tide. From now on stocks will begin to fairly melt away.

—Owing to the limited shopping time, we suggest that you take advantage of the early morning shopping hours when crowds are less. From this evening on we will be open evenings until Christmas.

—This is done to accommodate those who are unable to shop in the daytime. And again, many wives desire to shop with their husbands, and this can only be done in the evenings, when the men's business is over.

—An entirely new shift of salespeople to serve you each night, and those who are here in the evenings will be permitted to report at a late hour the following day. In this way our customers get the best of service, and our salespeople plenty of rest.

—The store opens at 8 o'clock and closes at 8.30.

—Two broad entrances, broad stairways leading to the upper floors, elevators, all these help to handle the great crowds that will be in evidence from now to Christmas.

—By right of broad assortments, service and values, the "Popular" is your best Christmas shopping store.

—Remember the Transfer Desk near Elevator Entrance, Main Floor, Aisle 4.

—The Wells Fargo Express, in Men's Shoe Department. The Accommodation Desk where surplus packages will be cared for.

—The Rest Room and public telephones.

NO FREE PHONES IN PHOENIX; OFFICIALS ANGRY.

Tempe, Ariz., Dec. 15.—Because they have to pay telephone rentals the city officers and members of the council are sore.

The Overland Telephone company secured a franchise for a system in Tempe and one of its provisions was that each member of the council and each city official should be given free service. Recently the Overland company sold out to the Mountain States. The first of this month the officials and councilmen were presented with bills. Some of them paid and some of them didn't, but all declare they are going to see whether that provision of the franchise still holds good.

CALIFORNIANS BUY BIG ARIZONA TRACT

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 15.—Four thousand acres in the Palomares valley, 104 miles southwest of Phoenix and along the Gila river, has been sold by C. W. McKee, E. B. O'Neill and J. M. Turner, of this city, to a syndicate of San Diego capitalists for $250,000.

With the land goes an irrigation system that cost many thousands of dollars. It is claimed that the Gila carries ample water for the irrigation of the entire tract.

The new owners will immediately make extensive improvements in the irrigation system and put their land under cultivation.
